NEWS RELEASE

Issued on: Monday 20 November 2017

ENGLISH LIONS v THE WELSH DRAGONS: NEW RECRUITS TAKE ON EVEREST LADDER CLIMB FOR CHARITY

On Saturday 2 December, our newly appointed wholetime firefighters will be attempting to set a new national fire and rescue service record for climbing the height of Mount Everest (a massive 8,848 metres), using a fire and rescue service ladder, dressed in full personal protective equipment with breathing apparatus - all in the name of fundraising for The Fire Fighters Charity. This attempt will take place on Gallowtree Gate, opposite the Visit Leicester Centre, between 12:00 – 16:00 hours.

The most recent fire and rescue service to take on this challenge was South Wales, who managed to complete it in four hours, 17 minutes and 22 seconds – www.bbc.co.uk/news/uk-wales-40985843. Leicestershire Fire and Rescue Service are going one better, with the aim to complete the challenge in under four hours – a new national fire and rescue service record. So, the battle between the English Lions and the Welsh Dragons is on...!

The new recruits taking on this challenge will be tested, both physically and mentally, by this enormous task. They are reaching out to the local communities to kindly ask for support on the day, to motivate them during the challenge. Of course they want to beat the record set by South Wales, but their main motivation is to raise as much money as possible for the Service's chosen charity, The Fire Fighters Charity, who provide rehabilitation, recuperation, advice and support for current and retired fire service colleagues and their families.

We would greatly appreciate any support from our communities – either by supporting the team on the day or by making a donation towards this great cause. Donations can be made via the dedicated Virgin Money Giving page or via the number of collection buckets available on the day. For the Virgin Money Giving page, please visit:

Steve Lunn, Chief Fire and Rescue Officer, said: "It's brilliant to hear that our latest set of recruits are already looking to give back, by taking on this challenge for The Fire Fighters Charity."

"Whilst they have been away, working hard during the intensive training at the Fire Service College, preparing themselves for their first day of duty, they came up with the fantastic idea of taking on the Everest Ladder Climb."

"I would just like to say thank you to the new recruits for taking part in this challenge, and to everyone who has already shown support by sponsoring the event and donating online - we really appreciate it!"

"Let's hope the firefighters do us proud and beat the Welsh Dragons' record – we always welcome a little bit of friendly rivalry!"
