LFRS Competency Framework

Introduction

We (Leicestershire Fire and Rescue Service) wish to ensure our values and behaviours are an intrinsic part of our culture at all levels of the service, being understood and demonstrated by everyone.

We are required to ensure that:

- An effective system is in place to manage staff development, performance and productivity;
- Selection, development and promotion of staff is open, transparent and fair;
- We have in place an open and fair process to identify, development and support high-potential staff and aspiring leaders; and
- We are required to demonstrate HOW our recruitment selection and promotion processes, as well as career pathways link to the National Fire Chiefs Council (NFCC) Framework.

The Competency Framework will aid the implementation of the above and support consistency across the Service by:

- Supporting the organisation's performance and supports staff and managers in delivering this;
- Bringing additional meaning and puts into practice organisational values and behaviours;
- It provides a common language across all areas of the organisation and across talent selection and management; and
- To progress improvement actions.

Framework for Delivering Organisational Performance

Fig.1

Competencies play a key role in Organisational Performance (Fig 1.)

What are Competencies?

Competencies are a set of individual performance behaviours which are observable, measurable and critical to both individual and organisation success. Competencies create a better understanding of the role and the desired performance required, thus assisting learning and growth, and provides a common language across the service. The competencies in this document are different to Incident Competency (these can be located in Development Folders).

Four Dimensions of Leadership and Talent

LFRS have mapped a universal competency framework (SHL) to the National Fire Chiefs Council (NFCC) Framework and also the service values. The results of which will be published in this framework.

How will we use Competencies?

Competencies will be derived and agreed upon by us, in conjunction with the Staff Consultation Forum and used across the Service in a constant approach. They will form the basis of;

- Job descriptions and Personal Specifications
- Recruitment and Selection (including Promotions)
- Probation Reviews
- Performance Reviews (Appraisals)
- Career Management/Development Portfolios
- Leadership Development
- Any other people process this framework adds value to

Each grey book role will have a specific set of competencies. These will be published in this Framework and within the Development Portfolios on SharePoint.

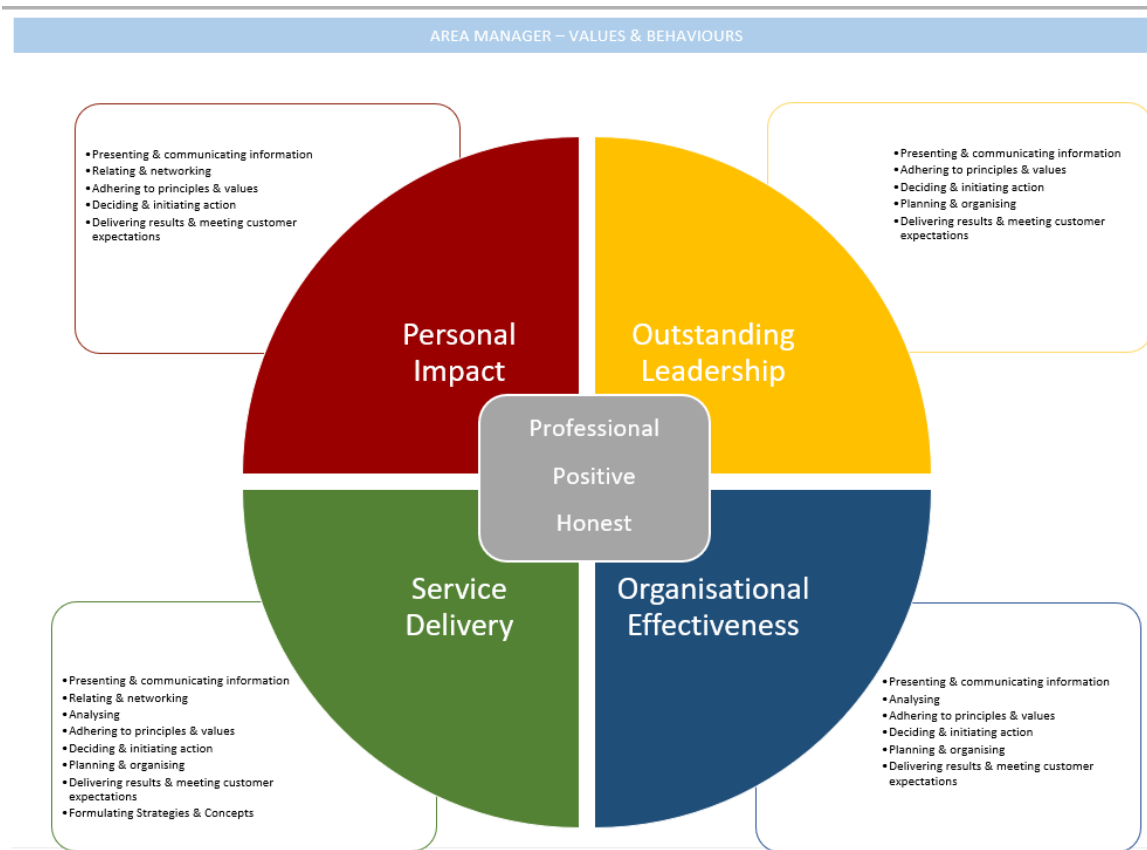

Green book roles will have a set of competencies. These will be published in this Framework and on SharePoint. (not completed at time of initial publication).

There will be a set of Positive and Negative indicators for each competency published in this Framework and on Sharepoint.
